

Trusted Sustainability Partner Program

The Trusted Sustainability Partner program identifies a dedicated group of sustainability-focused supplier partners who have demonstrated a proactive and transparent approach toward preventing the worst impacts of climate change, as outlined by the 2015 Paris Agreement.

Program Benefits

- Easily identify suppliers who demonstrate a commitment to protecting the environment by meeting the established program qualification standards
- Find qualifying suppliers that have set goals aligned with science and taken action to help prevent the worst impacts of climate change as outlined by the 2015 Paris Agreement
- Make more sustainable purchasing decisions by selecting products from brands committed to fighting climate change

How to Qualify

If you are a supplier interested in participating in our Trusted Sustainability Partner program, you must meet these eligibility requirements:

- 1. Set science-based targets: Set a target for your company to align with the Paris Agreement's goal of limiting global temperature increases to 1.5°C above pre-industrial levels.

Visit the Science Based Targets initiative website, sciencebasedtargets.org/set-a-target, to get started.

- 2. Take an EcoVadis assessment: EcoVadis is a global sustainability rating platform that evaluates a company's environmental, social, and ethical performance. Your rating should be at least "Good" (45 points or greater) to qualify as a Trusted Sustainability Partner.

Visit supplierexchange.fishersci.com and click on EcoVadis to launch the process.

- 3. Complete our Sustainability and Social Responsibility survey: This form will help map our journey together.

Visit supplierexchange.fishersci.com and click on Sustainability and Social Responsibility.

Once you have documentation that you've met all these requirements, please reach out to us at FisherScientificSustainability@thermofisher.com.
